BIG LINER BRINGS HALF THOUSAND PASSENGERS

Great Northern's Captain Reports Sea "Like Boiling Pot;" 414 People From Coast

"There was a swell like a boiling pot," said Capt. A. Ahman, commander of the liner Great Northern, which arrived today from San Francisco, San Pedro and Hilo, on time to the minute, docking at exactly 10 o'clock at Pier 6.

"We had a bad trip all the way across," said the big liner's big commander. "A heavy sea, the swell, and winds from north and north-east, shifting to southeast, kept us plenty busy. The Great Northern got in exactly on time, however, as usual, both at Hilo and here."

Captain Ahman said the steaming time from San Pedro to Hilo was 108 hours, exactly 4 days and 12 hours. The steamer arrived off Hilo at 7:20 yesterday morning, on time to the minute. "We are always on time," said the commander.

Steaming time from Hilo to Honolulu was 8 hours and 50 minutes, the liner having left there at 12:30 this morning. Captain Ahman slackened speed a number of times coming from Hilo, in order not to arrive ahead of schedule. On her last trip the Great Northern came over from Hilo in 8 hours and 34 minutes.

Pier Stringer Snapped.

Half a thousand passengers streamed down the gangway this morning as the liner docked. When she was being warped in to her berth, a buffer block was not lowered far enough, owing to the tackle fouling, and the ship's side drove the block against the pier's upper stringer, snapping the stringer with a report like a dozen rifles. The wharf was not damaged, the Great Northern brought exactly 514 passengers to Honolulu, of whom 414 were from San Francisco and Los Angeles. The remaining 100 got on at Hilo and included a number of Honoluluans who went over on the Mauna Kea to meet their families and return on the liner with them to Honolulu. Only two coast passengers booked to Hilo.

Running time from San Francisco to San Pedro was 15 hours and 47 minutes. Of the 414 passengers from the coast, 276 are first cabin, 122 second, and 16 steerage. Of this number 110 got on at San Pedro (Los Angeles harbor).

Freight brought by the Great Northern is disappointingly small, only 896 tons. On her last trip, the Great Northern brought 274 passengers from the coast, and on her first voyage, 220. Today's passenger list is 40 persons larger than on her last call here December 23.

Expected here from Guam and Manila about January 20 is the U. S. cruiser Sartoga, which left Guam January 10 (January 9 Honolulu time). The cruiser will take bunkers, water and provisions here, sail for Bremerton navy yard direct. She is the former flagship of the Asiatic fleet, and was recently replaced by the cruiser Brooklyn.

Mail for Yokohama direct will be taken by the T. K. K. steamer Tenyo Maru, due to arrive Friday morning from San Francisco, sailing Friday afternoon for the Orient.

HARBOR NOTES

At 10 o'clock this morning the Matsonia sailed from Pier 15 for San Francisco, taking passengers, mail and freight.

The Norse bark Glenshee is expected daily from Makatea with a cargo of phosphate, by Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., her agents.

The Great Northern brought 253 bags of mail today, of which 183 were put on at San Francisco, 65 at San Pedro, and five at Hilo.

The date of departure of the schooner Louise for Grays Harbor has been postponed until tomorrow. The schooner expected to leave today.

About 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the Matsonia steamer Lurline will sail for Hilo, to discharge cargo. She will be there Friday and Saturday and at Kahului Sunday, returning here Monday.

Sugar awaiting shipment on Kauai today is reported by the Maui as follows: Kilauea, 1600 bags; Makee Sugar Company, 5000 bags; Lihue Plantation, 10,000 bags.

About January 18 the British steamer Kestrel, Capt. E. L. Tindall, is expected to sail for Fanning Island, taking coal and stores for the copra plantation. The stores arrived yesterday on the Lurline.

Next Tuesday will see three boats leave here with mail for San Francisco. The T. K. K. liner Shinyo Maru will depart in the morning, the Oceanic steamer Sonoma and the Matsonia steamer Lurline in the afternoon.

The China Mail steamer China will take mail for Hongkong, Nagasaki and Manila when she sails for the Orient, probably at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The liner is due from San Francisco tomorrow morning, and will bring 43 bags of coast mail.

Radio advice to the quartermaster's office today from the transport Sheridan said the vessel will arrive at daylight tomorrow morning from San Francisco.

Passengers sailing on the Matsonia this morning for San Francisco were 55 cabin and 39 steerage. Freight was 2500 tons of sugar, 7500 cases of canned pines, and 4000 bunches of bananas.

Mail advice received here yesterday by Ching Shai, manager of the Oahu Rice Mill Company, confirmed previous news that the Chinese crew of the China Mail steamer China have successfully passed the able seamen's examination, and been awarded their certificates.

The W. G. Hall will take no passengers when she sails at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for Kauai. Explosives and combustibles prevent her from booking anyone. Next passenger steamer for Kauai will sail Monday afternoon, when the Maui will take the Hall's run.

Judge Henry E. Cooper's schooner yacht Luka was remeasured yesterday by inspectors from the customs force, the judge having requested that it be done. The Luka is having repairs made, and a new foremast put in. Judge Cooper said she will leave shortly on another voyage. The Luka brought copra from Fanning Island on her last trip.

The Inter-Island steamer Maui arrived from Nawiliwili and Ahukini, Kauai, this morning, bringing 17 cabin and 26 deck passengers. Her freight included two crates of chickens, seven barrels of sheep skins, 20 bags of rice, 20 of coconuts, 151 hides, 352 cases of pineapples and 31 packages of sundries. She reported strong northeast winds and moderate seas inward.

Work of measuring the German merchant steamers in Honolulu, under the Panama Canal requirements, will be completed this month. Two of them, the Pommeri, in port here, and the O. J. D. Ahlers, at Hilo, have been already measured, the owners having requested it, as they plan to operate the ships via Panama after the war. There are seven yet to measure.

The submarines K-4 and K-7 are now in drydock, receiving their regular semi-annual painting and cleaning. The K-8 and K-9 came off the Inter-Island drydock Monday afternoon. The K-8 went on a submerged run this morning, giving passengers on the Great Northern, which was then entering the harbor, a chance to see a submarine in the act of submerging.

TRAVELERS SAY HILO INSPECTION MADE WAIT LONG

A delay of two hours in securing inspection from the U. S. quarantine official at Hilo has aroused genuine anger among the passengers of the liner Great Northern, who voiced their indignation upon arrival today.

The steamship company and the officers of the Hilo liner had done everything possible to get the passengers early to Hilo and through the quarantine inspection. The passengers were asked to be up early and line up for inspection before breakfast, which did. The liner was in Kahuia bay early but no public health officials appeared. Passengers said today that it was not until 8:45 o'clock that Dr. L. L. Sexton, acting assistant surgeon, and his assistants, were on the scene, and that by this time many of the passengers were acutely discommoded, both by the heat of waiting in the rooms, and of going without breakfast.

Formal complaint is to be made, officers of the liner were told by the passengers, to the bureau of the public health service in the treasury department. It is alleged that the inspection force at Hilo is too small and does not properly appreciate the situation of a big liner arriving early in the day so that the passengers may be landed early. Some of the passengers are said to have reacted Hilo as late as noon yesterday, and their stay on the Big Island was necessarily so shortened that they could not see as much of the country around Hilo as they wished.

One passenger said today that affidavits will probably be secured from passengers detailing their delay.

Passengers on the Great Northern declared Dr. Sexton did not board the liner until 8:40 yesterday morning, although the pilot was picked up off Hilo at 7:20. They said his methods were arbitrary, and that as a result of his delay the Pauilo trip had to be given up, as the last passengers did not get ashore until 11:30 yesterday morning.

Officers of the liner asserted passengers became violently angry at Dr. Sexton, calling him all sorts of epithets and uncomplimentary names. They said passengers declared the physician's methods to be "arbitrary, autocratic and lacking in common sense."

"For a while we thought there was going to be a fist fight," said one officer.

APPRAISERS TO HOLD HEARINGS AT LOCAL PORT

The board of general appraisers, with main offices in New York City, will conduct hearings of importers' protests, both classification and valuation, in Honolulu on May 15, according to a docket which has been drawn up by J. B. Sullivan, president of the board.

Commenting on the proposed trip of the board to ports outside New York, the New York Times says:

"This is the second time the board has included Honolulu in its schedule, thus saving importers their time and money in the matter of getting their protests before the board, the former procedure requiring the filing of papers or personal appearance at the board's New York offices."

The general schedule includes hearings by both single general appraisers, and by boards of three.

"FREIGHT RATES OUT OF SIGHT," SAYS N. E. GEDGE

"Business is good in San Francisco, and the shipping trade is booming," said Norman E. Gedge, secretary and treasurer of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., who returned with Mrs. Gedge this morning on the Great Northern from the coast, after a vacation lasting nearly two months. Mr. and Mrs. Gedge left here November 16.

"The shipping business is great," said Mr. Gedge. "Freight rates are out of sight, and the demand for ships is unprecedented. There is a tremendous demand for tonnage." Mr. Gedge attended to details of the transaction by which the Inter-Island purchased the steamer Shoshone.

While in San Francisco, Mr. Gedge was honored with appointment as deputy inspector of the Scottish Rite Masons in the Hawaiian Islands. This is one of the highest honors in Masonry, and gives Mr. Gedge authority over all Scottish Rite Masonic lodges in the islands.

The appointment was made by the sovereign grand commander of the Scottish Rite for the southern jurisdiction. While on the coast Mr. Gedge was initiated into the 33rd degree.

In Japan private individuals own only the surface of the land and its products, all mineral deposits beneath the surface being the property of the government.

An education scheme which has been under way at Siam for 20 years has led to the laying of the foundation of Bangkok University's first building, for arts, medicine and engineering.

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS CLUB OF MILITIA IN SESSION

Officers were elected last night at a session of the non-commissioned officers club, National Guard of Hawaii, and honorary membership was granted to three lieutenants who have been promoted from the ranks. Capt. Lincoln, senior instructor-instructor, was asked to meet the members of the club next Tuesday.

The officers elected were: 1st Sgt. Westcott, Q. M. C., president; Sgt. Henry Yamp of Company F, secretary; and Sgt. R. McDowney, Company B, treasurer. Membership committee: Sgt. Hopkins, Company F; Sgt. Pinao, Company G, and Post Sgt. Kepano. Lieut. Harold Godfrey, retiring chairman; Lieut. Will Miles, and Lieut. Sing were elected honorary members.

Rumors have been spread in Swedish papers that the German torpedo boats which detained the steamship Arago flew the Swedish flags.
